

TI People

The world of work is changing: Digital disrupts corporate strategy, companies are changing the way they work. Change is faster than ever – and will never be slower. In this environment it is crucial for companies to attract and retain the right people. The best way to do so is by actively managing the employee experience (EX) with the company.

TI People is a recognized leader in helping global organizations to manage EX. We were founded in 2016, have offices in Hamburg, London, and Washington DC. With our unique consulting model, we have developed progressive technology solutions to manage EX in global companies.

For the next level of growth we are looking for a Product Manager EX, based in Hamburg or London.

Your Impact

In your role, you will work closely with our CEO on product leadership for our core EX solution, the CxHR Platform. Key elements of your work will include:

- Identifying breakthrough product opportunities (strategy/vision)
- Translating those breakthroughs into a great user experience (design) and leading product functionality (development)
- Working directly with select pilot clients to co-create new product features (consulting)
- Defining how the product shows up in the market and has successful sales (marketing & commercial acumen)
- Ensuring that customers, prospects and staff are aware of, trained on, and engaged with the changing product (management)

What Makes You Successful

You are a professional with 5 years of work experience in product management and management consulting, who takes responsibility and enjoy a self-reliant working style. You are a positive challenger, intellectually curious, and intrigued by the power of employee experience. And you enjoy working and growing in an open-minded, entrepreneurial team.

What We Have To Offer

An agile start-up culture while enjoying a good work-life balance, highly intellectual and international work environment to learn from; a collaborative, experienced and trustful team, and stylish and high tech work environment
